

Accreditation Application Support

Accreditations like CHAS or Constructionline can unlock opportunities for your business, but the application process can be complicated. C2C Group have simplified the process and removed the hassle. Let us help you flourish.

Our Service

Accreditations such as Constructionline, CHAS and SSIP can put your business before the UK's largest network of construction buyers. Some larger contractors or clients even stipulate that you must have these accreditations to tender for work with them.

We manage the accreditation process for you, so you can carry on with your day-to-day business, knowing that your accreditation is in hand.

Having these accreditations helps you pre-qualify for clients and contracts across the UK. The accreditations use the PAS91 and the Common Assessment Standard to validate your business's capabilities and experience. Accreditation covers a variety of risk-management and compliance topics, depending on the type or level of accreditation being sought.

The application process can seem overwhelming and is often long and drawn out. C2C Group simplify the process for you by:

- Demystifying the questions and only asking you for the necessary information
- Providing you with a checklist of documentation you need to provide
- Answering all relevant sections and uploading the required evidence
- Submitting the responses to the accreditation body and monitoring the responses
- Actioning any feedback given by the accreditation body, until all sections are approved

Some accreditations require specific documents and training that you may not already have in place. We will identify these gaps and, if agreed, we can produce the templates or policies needed to ensure that you are deemed compliant and remain so in accordance with the accreditation body.

We at C2C Group will manage the process for you until you have obtained the level of certification you require. Our mission is to help you stay compliant. We aim to take the confusion out of accreditations, allowing you to focus your time on what you do best.

Gain clarity and build confidence in your team.

Case Study

Supporting a flourishing start-up

The Problem

As a new business, Faber Joinery came to C2C Group needing to secure CHAS and Constructionline accreditations. We worked collaboratively with Faber to develop key documentation required to secure the accreditations.

The Challenges

The challenges faced by Faber included:

- Focusing on the business start-up phase
- Stretched resources
- Limited accreditation application experience
- Lack of internal specialism

Accreditation applications are not straightforward and can require a lot of back-and-forth with the accrediting body. This is where C2C Group come in. We take the strain on resources and any confusion in the process.

The Results

The results of our service speak for themselves. Faber currently hold CHAS Elite and Constructionline Gold certificates, and we have retained them as our clients. We look forward to maintaining these certificates in 2023 as Faber's trusted partners.

The Solution

We managed the process from start to finish for Faber Joinery including:

- Working with them to produce the correct documentation
- Collating existing documents and evidence
- Making submissions through the relevant portals
- Dealing with any responses or queries

C2C were instrumental in helping us achieve Constructionline and CHAS. As a young company, coordinating health and safety policies can be difficult. The team at C2C guided us through the whole process, took the stress away and enabled us to grow into the business we are today. We continue to look to C2C to this day and into the future for advice. We cannot recommend them highly enough.
